Lesson Steps

Each phase builds on the one before it — from getting students interested, to teaching the skill, to letting them practice it with support, to doing it on their own.

#	Phase	What Happens & How
1	Hook / Opening (5–10 min)	Grab attention and connect to what students already know. Ask a question, share a quick story, show an image, or do a short activity that gets them curious about the topic. This is the "why should I care?" moment.
2	Direct Instruction (10–15 min)	Introduce the new concept clearly and simply. Model it — think out loud, demonstrate step by step, or show an example. Keep explanations short. Check for understanding as you go with quick questions.
3	Guided Practice	Students try it with you. Work through examples together — as a whole

	(10–15 min)	class or in small groups. Give plenty of encouragement. This is where mistakes are expected and welcomed.
4	Independent Practice (10–15 min)	Students apply the skill on their own. Walk around the room, check in with individuals, offer support as needed. Note who is getting it and who needs more help.
5	Closure / Wrap-Up (5 min)	Bring the class back together. Ask students to share something they learned, answer one closing question, or give a thumbs up / thumbs down to show their confidence. Briefly preview what is coming next.

Assessment & Reflection

How will you know if students got it? And what will you do with that information?

During the Lesson	Observe student participation, listen to answers, and watch for confusion or disengagement. Ask questions as you circulate.
End of Lesson	Exit ticket, thumbs up/down, a quick verbal check-in, or a short written response.
Differentiation	Note any students who may need the concept broken into smaller steps, or who may be ready for an added challenge.
Notes / Reflection	After the lesson: What worked well? What would you adjust? Which students need a follow-up?

Additional Notes
